AUTOMOBILE CASES IN HANDS OF JUSTICE

Arguments in what are known as the automobile cases were concluded yesterday afternoon before Justice Gould, presiding in Equity Court No. 1. The litigation was begun by Carl J. Lockwood, a local dealer in automobiles, who petitioned the Supreme Court of the District to enjoin the Commissioners from putting into effect the proposed automobile regulations. Mr. Lockwood filed two petitions, each having practically the same object in view. Argument of the first petition was heard some time ago by Justice Gould, who then stated that he would not pronounce his decision until he had heard argument on the amended complaint.

The Commissioners are represented by Corporation Counsel Duvall and Assistant Counsel E. H. Thomas, and the complainant by Lambert & Baker. At the conclusion of the arguments Justice Gould announced that he would take the matter under advisement and give his decision later.

PAY CAN'T BE WITHHELD FROM POLICEMAN GROFF

Private Samuel A. Groff, of the Metropolitan Police Force, and who has been indicted by the Federal grand jury for complicity in the postal fraud cases with his brother and A. W. Machen, is still drawing pay from the District government notwithstanding that he was suspended several weeks ago. The Commissioners, being advised of this fact, appealed to A. L. Sinclair, assistant corporation counsel, to ascertain whether Groff's pay could not be suspended also until the case in which he is implicated had been tried.

Mr. Sinclair returned the papers yesterday to the Commissioners with the opinion that Groff must receive his pay until discharged from the force. Mr. Sinclair says:

"The Commissioners being without authority to remove a member of the police force, except upon written charges and after an opportunity for defense on the part of the person against whom such charges may be made, it necessarily follows that until Mr. Groff is regularly and unconditionally discharged from the service on the police force, after a trial satisfying the requirements of this law, his salary should be paid to him, as heretofore."

WARNER STUTLER PRESENTS HIS CASE

Replies to Garbage Collector's Complaint.

FINE PROPERLY IMPOSED

Declares He Has No Desire to Do Fertilizer Company Injustice, and Only Carries Out the Law.

Warner Stutler, Superintendent of the Street Cleaning Department, submitted yesterday afternoon to the District Commissioners an answer to the charge made against him and his department by Louis Beyer, Jr., secretary of the Washington Fertilizer Company. Mr. Beyer made strong objection to a fine of $806.25 imposed upon his company by Superintendent Stutler for alleged failure to perform proper service as garbage collectors. Mr. Stutler holds that his position is correct and asks the Commissioners to hear both sides of the controversy in board meeting.

"We do not," says Mr. Beyer, in his complaint, "recognize the justice of Mr. Stutler's infliction of a further fine of $806.25 for failure to render proper service during May, as the records of the office tend to disprove his claim."

"From a business standpoint, we cannot fail to recognize the fact that it is entirely too costly to comply with the terms of our contract, and we believe that the injustice of Mr. Stutler's fines must be apparent. We cannot understand why the penalties to the amount imposed by Mr. Stutler can be so readily approved by the Commissioners. We think them unreasonable, unjust, and excessive."

Ask Remission of Fine. "We have earnestly endeavored to comply in every way with the requirements and terms of our contract, and since our service shows an increase in collection over the former contractor of 12,823 tons in four years, without any particular increase in population, we are justified in believing that we are entitled to some credit for the work now rendered. We would request the Board of Commissioners to remit the fines imposed, by reason of their being unjust and excessive."

Mr. Stutler's Reply. In answer to this, Mr. Stutler submitted the following letter to Commissioners West:

"Mr. Beyer claims that the deduction of $806.25 made by me from their May account is unreasonable, unjust, and excessive, and that the records tend to prove the same. If Mr. Beyer believes that an injustice has been done his company, I would suggest that he call for a board hearing for the purpose of presenting his case. I shall be very glad to meet him at such a hearing in order that I may lay before the Commissioners my side of the controversy."

"In regard to the statement of Mr. Beyer that his company has removed 12,823 tons more garbage than did the former contractor during a like period, I beg to say that the latter had on seventy-two teams during the summer months, and in addition to that, eighty-five private collectors had permits to collect throughout the year. Of course, the quantity of garbage collected by these private parties was not credited to the former contractor."

Private Collections Prohibited. "From December 1, 1900, when the present contract went into effect, until about May, 1901, these eighty-five private collectors continued to remove garbage. During the latter month this office prohibited the practice, and it was accordingly discontinued. Because of the fact that the eighty-five private parties were also collecting for the first few months of the present contract the service was excellent, and I so stated in my annual report for the fiscal year, 1901."

"After the private parties stopped collecting the company did not increase the number of teams, and the consequence was that complaints from householders began to pour in. At no time since the contract went into effect has the company had on more than sixty-two teams, and although the present summer schedule went into effect on April 16, up to within a few days ago the greatest number of teams in service has been fifty-eight."

Cause of the Fine. "The reduction of $806.25 from the company's account for May, to which Mr. Beyer takes exception, was based on the failure to make the number of collections required by the contract, and not on the quantity of garbage collected. Household make so much garbage each week, and whether the company removes it daily, or a less number of times during the week, they ultimately get the total quantity, as no one else is allowed to collect it. Other words, if they give a daily service they collect less garbage on each particular trip than they would if they collected but three times per week, but the total quantity collected is the same in either case."

"In conclusion, I may say that there is no disposition on my part to do the company an injustice, as in making the deductions referred to I have simply carried out the provisions of the contract."

JUDGE TYNER COMPLAINS OF SIDEWALK WIDENING

Improvement of Sixteenth Street Will, However, Go Forward.

James N. Tyner, formerly Assistant Attorney General for the Postoffice Department, and whose conduct in office is now being investigated, has been heard from after several weeks of silence. This time it is not in connection with the affairs of the postal investigation, but in his complaint sent to the District Commissioners protesting against proposed changes in the sidewalk on the north side of Kenesaw Avenue from Sixteenth Street eastward, incidental to the widening of Sixteenth Street extended.

Some time ago the District ordered that the sidewalk in question be widened twelve inches, to conform with the uniform width of the sidewalks adjoining. Judge Tyner and some of his neighbors have objected to this move.

In an indorsement made today by the new Engineer of Highways, C. B. Hunt, and approved by Commissioner Biddle, the original order will be enforced, the complaint of the deposed postal official to the contrary notwithstanding.

ATTORNEY APPEALS FOR LAW-AND-ORDER FOURTH

Objects to Old-Time Celebration, and Would Have Liberty and Peace.

"Did our forefathers fight for mob law? No, but for liberty and peace. Why, then, surrender the Fourth of July to the mob? Why allow the laws to be violated?"

"Make the Fourth of July a model day for law and order: not for riot, and crime, and misfortune."

Such is the sum total of a letter received this morning by the District Commissioners from Chase Roys, who signs himself an "attorney-at-law."

Clippings from various newspapers bearing dates all the way back to the signing of the Declaration of Independence are attached to the brief appeal from Mr. Roys, purporting to substantiate his position and give weight to his appeal.

Commissioner Macfarland, at the time the letter was received was busy arranging the details of the monster Fourth of July celebration, and did not have time to consider the complaint. Consequently it is probable that Mr. Roys will have to wait another year before his complaint can be given attention.

One of the Commissioners, whose name is for the present withheld, was heard to express surprise that a Washington attorney should make such an earnest appeal for law and order.

BROKERS MUST WAIT ON SUPREME COURT

Highest Tribunal to Pass on Question of License.

Assessor Darnelle has returned to the Commissioners three applications filed by J. B. Flesher & Co., the Macdonald Company, and Burton H. Lucks, stock brokers, asking for a return of certain sums of money paid by them for broker's licenses. In his indorsement the Assessor states that the payment of the refund should be delayed until the conclusion of pending litigation regarding the law under which the licenses were collected.

It seems that these licenses, averaging about $250 each, were paid for by the complaining companies under duress; the contention being that the law imposing the penalty was unconstitutional.

A test case, known as Robinson Laplin vs. the District of Columbia, was carried to the Court of Appeals, which on May 5 last decided in favor of Laplin. On the strength of this decision these applications were filed for refund.

Assessor Darnelle immediately recommended that an appeal be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States. This recommendation has been approved, and the cases must await the decision of the highest tribunal in the country.

INDEPENDENCE DAY AT CHESAPEAKE BEACH

Unusual Preparations for Enjoyment at the Salt Water Resort.

No expense has been spared by the management of the Chesapeake Beach Railroad Company to make the Fourth a gala day at the beach. General Manager Paul G. Waters has arranged a schedule under which cars are to leave the Treasury at the corner of New York Avenue and Fifteenth Street every two minutes all day, beginning early in the morning, and continuing until late in the evening.

Extra engines and cars are to be in service, so that there can be no crowding and consequent discomfort. With the new schedule in force the trip through to the beach can be made in much less time than is usually consumed on the way to the pleasant resort.

At the beach there is to be music furnished by an enlarged band under the leadership of Prof. Haley, and in the evening one of the largest displays of fireworks ever given in this locality.

There is to be the best kind of sea bathing all day, and in the evening rowing, and all kinds of aquatic sports in the moonlight.

Chesapeake Beach is the only resort near Washington, where salt water bathing can be indulged in, and which yet has all of the attractions of the big groves, the hotels and other buildings being surrounded by numbers of the largest trees in the vicinity.

The management of the railroad has been spending a great deal of money lately for new equipment, and consequently today its rolling stock and track are as fine as any in the country.

WOMAN ENTERS SUIT FOR DAMAGED CLOAK

Mrs. Henrietta Stuart, widow of ex-Representative Stuart of Ohio, yesterday filed suit in the District Supreme Court against the estate of the late Benjamin H. Stinemetz, to recover $500, because of alleged damages to a sealskin cloak. In June, 1902, Mrs. Stuart says, she took the cloak which she valued at $1,500, to Stinemetz to have it remodeled. The workmen, she contends, ruined the cloak by making it too small, and consequently entirely worthless to her. The American Security and Trust Company, the executor of Stinemetz's estate is named as defendant in the suit, and Wharton E. Lester is counsel for the plaintiff.

MONEY NEEDED FOR A WORTHY CHARITY

Working Boys' Home Appeals to the Public for Aid.

The committee having charge of the Working Boys' Home and Children's Aid Association, located at 230 C Street northwest, is earnestly at work endeavoring to procure much-needed funds for the maintenance of the home. The following appeal has been issued and circulated far and wide through Washington:

"The citizens of Washington are appealed to to give financial support to an institution which has been in existence in this city for the past eighteen years. In January, 1886, it was incorporated as a Newsboys' and Children's Aid Society, and since that time has—thanks to the liberality of those who have been interested in its labors—done necessary and commendable work in the field covered by it."

"It has recently broadened the scope of its activities and has become incorporated as the Working Boys' Home and Children's Aid Association, in order that its name may be more indicative of the actual work which it now proposes to do. It is no longer limited to the aiding of newsboys as such, but its advantages are to be extended to all deserving poor boys who are under the necessity of working for a living and are in need of the assistance which the institution is able to offer. This assistance includes good and wholesome but inexpensive board to all boys admitted to its privileges. In addition the institution offers a temporary abiding place for children whose parents can afford to pay for their care, but who from their occupations and circumstances are not able to provide supervision of their children during absence at their callings."

"The buildings and grounds owned by the institution are situated at the corner of Third and C Streets northwest, and comprise assembly rooms, dormitories, a gymnasium, reading rooms and all other necessary appointments for a home for boys. The inmates are surrounded by influences tending to make of them good and patriotic citizens. An inspection of the workings of the institution and of its buildings is earnestly invited."

"While its buildings and grounds are free from debt there is urgent need for funds to carry on the work of the institution. Appeal is hereby made for an increase of the number of sustaining members, the dues of such members being only $5 per annum. Life membership is acquired by the payment of $50 at one time."

"Application for membership, agreements for yearly subscriptions and donations of sums, however small, will be most thankfully received and can be sent to Miss F. G. Childs, Chevy Chase, Md."
